

Family Watchdog

Family Watchdog is a company driven to provide awareness to people when they need it most. We are the world's leading database for Registered Sex Offenders. We don't just stop there - we also have safety topics, such as product recalls and FDA alerts. We even offer notifications to our followers, telling them when an offender moves in/out of their area, as well as any recalls or weather alerts.

People want the information we offer!

Key to its success, Family Watchdog uses easy-to-use web technology to help people achieve security through awareness, education and community. Family Watchdog offers tools that enable users to proactively inform, educate and protect themselves, their families and their community.

Why use Family Watchdog for my advertising purposes?

With over two million monthly visitors concerned about their family's safety, Family Watchdog can help you attract new customers, create brand identity, increase revenue, and participate in community awareness programs by directing targeted and relevant information to our consumers.

Who uses Family Watchdog?

Family Watchdog is regularly featured on TV and radio shows such as Oprah, Dr. Phil, Bill O'Reilly, CBS News, NBC News, Fox News and countless others. Which helps us reach about 15 Million page views a month!

Other users and supporters include parents, educators, public safety personnel, PTAs, community groups and volunteer programs. The list goes on and on!

Endorsed by people from all walks of life including law enforcement and government officials, educators, child safety advocates and celebrities alike, Family Watchdog promotes family safety and crime prevention. Our supporters and service garners a high-level of confidence and credibility with our visitors. Associating with Family Watchdog provides strong brand recognition to household and family decision makers concerned with ever increasing threats facing their families and communities.

How can we help?

Attract and Retain Customers
